

THIRD ANNUAL SITES OF STRUGGLE SYMPOSIUM

Women of SNCC: Civil Rights Activism in the 1960s and Today

Tuesday March 16, 2010
6:00 p.m.

FedEx Global Education Center
Nelson Mandela Auditorium

Come hear three women veterans of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) speak about their experiences as civil rights activists in the 1960s and the ongoing movement for social justice and racial equality.

Constance Curry, the author of the book Silver Rights and the producer of the film The Intolerable Burden.

Efia Nwangaza, an attorney and the director of the Afrikan-American Institute for Policy Studies and Planning in Greenville, SC.

Theresa El-Amin, the founder of the Southern Anti-Racism Network.

Email sitesofstruggle@gmail.com for more information

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

Ella Baker delivering a speech in Atlantic City, 1964

The Ella Baker Tour Comes to UNC

Organized by the Department of African & Afro-American Studies.

Co-sponsored by the Black Student Movement, Campus Y, Center for the Study of the American South, History Department, Institute for African American Research, Institute for the Arts and Humanities, the Sonja Haynes Stone Center for Black Culture and History, UNC Chapter of the NAACP, and the Women's Studies Department.

This event is free and open to the public. Limited parking is available in the garage below the Global Education Center.